POOLROOMS TO BE REGULATED

Plans for Restoration of City Lighting
System By Electric Company
Approved by Council.

After disposing of the long-pending problem of the readjustment of the names of the streets, the members of the Board of Town Trustees settled down to business, and before the close of their session Monday evening had cleared a long over-burdened calendar. A practical conclusion has been reached on all pending questions, and for a time at least the Trustees may hope to keep up with the business of the town without the necessity of remaining in their seats until well along toward the midnight hour.

By way of an introduction to the subject, Chairman Merrill presented a map of the lines suggested for the restoration of the electric street lighting system of the town, as proposed by the representatives of the United Gas & Electric Co. At the same time he stated that the proposed changes and additions came as a result of the use for some time past of the old poles and lines by the lighting company, used under the existing contract. It was also explained that under the proposed plan of restoration the construction of considerably over three miles of new primary lines will be required, and that with the completion of these the town will be in possession of a complete lighting system.

It was decided to reserve the right to provide for joint use of poles on Phelps street to Main street; Main street, from Phelps to Broadway, and on Broadway, from Main to Washington. This is done in order to avoid a multiplicity of poles and wires in the business section. It is also intended to provide for a temporary joint occupancy of the line on Roosevelt avenue, this latter to be terminated at the option of the board. As a general rule, the idea of joint use, except in the districts mentioned, is not to be encouraged.

A suggestion was made that at some time in the future the lighting company might be ready to purchase the system from the town. This idea was received without favor by the Trustees. The sentiment was unanimous that the two systems should be maintained, it being the opinion that for the interest of the public competing systems should be in existence. It was also suggested that possibly at the expiration of the present contract it was possible the city might decide to purchase current at wholesale delivered at some central station.

After the approval of the maps and suggestions the plan as outlined was referred to the City Engineer, the City Attorney, and the engineers of the lighting company, with instructions to prepare and submit plans and specifications. These will be submitted to the board for approval as soon as the work can be completed.

The much mooted garbage question was introduced for another short round. At the very introduction of the subject it was made plain to the Trustees that the members of board had no use for the incinerator proposition submitted last week by Mr. Olaine. Not only was the proposal that the town funds should be invested in a project of this character frowned upon, but it was evident that the Trustees had been doing some investigating during the interim on their own hook, and that the results of the quest for information had thrown grave doubts on the claims for perfection made for the machine. It was stated by Trustee Ride that E. J. Fowler, of this city, had seen the smelter at Mt. Diablo and had partially pronounced it a failure. No only were the fumes not entirely destroyed as had been claimed, but these were found to be seriously obnoxious.

With this it was decided to pursue the general plans originally mapped out, that of depending for the present upon hogs as the means of destroying such of the garbage as could be thus utilized and placed in condition to be again a marketable commodity. It was conceded that to make this plan feasible a practical monopoly of the business must be given to some party. This will be accomplished by the passage of an ordinance requiring that all garbage shall be deposited or delivered to a certain place at the order of the board. At the same time it is desired to leave the matter of the collection of the garbage open to competition. To accomplish this the ordinance will provide for the maximum charge which any person engaging in the business might make. While some doubt was expressed as to the authority of the town to make an order governing the disposition of refuse, or to prevent its being transported out of the jurisdiction of the corporation, Mr. Merrill, emphatically expressed the opinion that the general police powers of the municipality were sufficient authority. In accordance with this decision the City Attorney will prepare the necessary ordinances.

By the interjection of a question as to the rate of license fee which the board designed to impose upon pool rooms, City Attorney Mansfield precipitated final decision upon the question of the restriction of all kindred sports. At first Trustee Hynding was rather inclined to doubt the right of the authorities to attempt regulation, contending that the mere visiting of such places constituted no crime. To this Mr. Merrill answered that he had frequently been importuned to secure legislation by the board for this purpose. It had been complained that even very young boys visited the pool rooms, spending almost their entire time watching the games, smoking cigarettes and even gambling on the result of the games. This settled the argument, and ended in a decision to prepare the regulations suggested some time ago. Attorney Mansfield advised that the most certain way of securing this result would be the requiring of the conductors to secure a license by application to the board. In the ordinance requiring this could be embodied such rules as were deemed necessary, as is now the case with saloons. This would also put it in the power of the board to refuse to renew the licenses of such places as are not properly conducted. With the pool rooms, there will also be included among those who will be required to pay special licenses keepers of bowling alleys, slot machines and billiard halls. The license for pool and billiard tables was fixed at $3 per quarter for each table; bowling alleys $3 for each alley used; $3 per quarter for each slot machine in use. In the case of the slot machines, it was stated that each of the saloons had one or more of these machines in use, and suggested that as the proprietors of these places were already paying a rather high license, they should be allowed the machines for the saloon license. It was finally decided that if practicable each saloon should be allowed to maintain not to exceed two machines without the payment of the special license.

Discussion of street work indicated that while satisfactory progress was being made in the necessary preliminaries some serious problems were confronting the board. One of these is especially apparent in district No. 9, where there is danger that the cost of the work will exceed the amount of the assessment levied. This is due to the fact that through an inadvertence the specifications call for a thickness of eight inches in the finished rock of the surface, whereas it had been intended that it should be six inches, which would make all that the use will require. It is believed however that there yet remains time to alter the specifications as to meet the requirements of the case. This it is contended can easily be done for the reason that the profiles require a subgrade excavation of but six inches. It was shown that the specifications for this class of work in Oakland provide for a thickness of but six inches of rock when rolled, and this rule will be followed in all future work with the exception of the County Road, where there is a very considerable amount of automobile traffic.

Upon the recommendation of Street Superintendent Dickey it was decided to call for bids for the furnishing of 6250 feet of iron pipe for the extension of the water mains to the new Dingee reservoir. This will be in sizes of 12, 10 and 8 inches. Bids will also be asked for for the necessary valves and other fittings, as well as for 2000 feet of light pipe to be used for culverts at street crossings.

Burglars Make Big haul.

Franz Kalouska who resides at 203 Mound street and is employed in the Frank tannery has always had a strong disapproval of banks as a place in which to keep money. For the past three years he has acted as his own banker and during that time has succeeded in accumulating $355 dollars which he kept concealed on the top shelf of a clothes closet at his home. Saturday night Kalouska and his wife were out for an hour and during their absence the house was entered and the whole amount of the family savings stolen. Mrs. Kalouska says that an attempt was made to enter the house a few nights previously but the would be burglars were scared off. Sheriff Chatham is working on the case and is doing his best to find a clue but thus far has met with little success. It is believed that Kalouska during a moment of indiscretion told of his plethoric sack to some of his cronies who planned the robbery.

Made Butter Below Standard.

For his violations of the pure food laws A. B. Cavalli, a La Honda rancher, has run afoul of the government inspectors, with the result that he was fined $1,025, which was later reduced to $425. Cavalli has a large dairy at La Honda, and for some time has been shipping 300 pounds of butter a week, which has contained from 22 to 30 per cent moisture instead of the 16 per cent allowed by law. On plea of ignorance and first offense Cavalli's fine was reduced from the original amount set. The same officials discovered some irregularities in the saloon business of Cavalli Bros. at La Honda for which they were heavily fined.

Tax On Necessary of Life.

Of all the suggested changes in the tariff laws, that which seems to most seriously affect the general public is the proposed levying of an import duty of five cents per pound on coffee. The one direct effect of the adoption of this change must necessarily be the addition of this amount to the cost of one of the staple articles of American consumption. It has been said, without contradiction, that the people of this country are a nation of coffee drinkers. This is undisputedly a fact, and for the sake of this argument, it is not necessary to consider the question as to whether or not the use is harmful.

Just what is the motive really underlying the suggested tax on this staple article seems to be rather obscure. Except in times of extreme stress, it has been the national policy to levy tariff mainly for the protection of native industries. In this case, that argument can not possibly be invoked. Not only is there no section of the country in which coffee is grown, but so far as is known, there is neither land nor climate suited to its production.

So far, opposition to the imposition of the proposed tax has been confined almost entirely to those engaged in the sale of the article directly to the consumer. The retailer should not be left to bear the entire brunt of the opposition in a matter in which the general public is so vitally interested. To these men the interest is not paramount, for the reason that they will simply be compelled to advance the price of the article as the cost to them is increased. People generally, who will be compelled ultimately to bear the tax, should take steps to assist in voicing the sentiment of opposition. As far as has been shown, the only persons likely to benefit by the tariff are a few large importers who find themselves now in possession of large stocks or will be enabled to prepare for the imposition of the duty by further advance importations.

Value of Public Libraries.

One of the strongest institutions in the upbuilding of the moral and material welfare of any community is the free public library and reading room. By this means the people of a community are placed within reach of the best and most elevating classes of literature. Good books for home reading are placed within the reach of both the rich and the poor. To those who are by circumstances deprived of the comforts and conveniences of a home, the means are provided for the passing of unemployed time free from the influences of unfavorable surroundings.

That such an institution may accomplish its best results, however, it must be so conducted as to be best available and attractive to those most in need of its advantages. To accomplish this it must be kept open at times when the classes who benefit by its maintenance the most are in a position to reap its greatest benefits.

To best secure this, it would seem that a public library should be kept open at least for a considerable portion of the time on Sunday. This is the period when men who are compelled to devote the days of the week to the pressing necessity of securing the means of sustenance have time to devote to their mental improvement. It is also the time when the young man, especially the stranger within our midst, is usually in search of some place where he may pass the hours which might otherwise be much worse employed.

That this change would involve some additional expense in the conduct of our local institution, goes without question. It would be necessary to compensate the librarian for the additional time required, and there would be some additional expense for lighting and heating. This would not be material in proportion to the gain to the patrons, both present and prospective.

Members of the Board of Trade should take some action looking to the formulation of a systematic plan for the advertising of the resources and attractions of this city. This is the plan followed by every progressive community, and must not be lagging in the race.

The spectacle of millionaires settling as trial jurors will be an innovation indeed. But they should perform the duty as well as their poorer brethren.

The tax payer is paying the piper in the prosecution of accused officials. His burdens have always been heavy so what's the use.

New Salary Schedule.

Assemblyman Holmquist has introduced a County Government Act which provides as follows and which will take effect immediately upon its passage.

The County Clerk, in addition to his salary of $3000 is allowed $1500 for a deputy.

The Recorder will receive the same salary as heretofore and $2499 extra for two deputies.

The Auditor is allowed $600 additional for clerical assistance. His income is now $1800.

In addition to this the salary of Superintendent of Schools has been increased to $2100 a year. This increase however will not take effect until 1941.

Julius Parlet has commenced an action in the Superior Court for a divorce from his wife, Augustine Parlet, on statutory grounds.

Late News of Woodside.

WOODSIDE, Mar. 12.—Morris Doyle, an early settler of Portola, died at his home there on Feb. 28th after a lingering illness. Deceased was a native of Ireland aged 76 years and had lived in the Portola valley for very many years. He was a highly respected citizen and about the last of the early pioneers who came here during the days when lumber was the principal industry in these parts. Mr. Doyle was a thrifty and accumulated a comfortable fortune and spent the evening of his life in ease and plenty. Mr. Doyle was one of the pillars of the old St. Denis church when it was the only Catholic edifice in the county. He was a good neighbor and an upright citizen and a loyal friend.

J. A. Zane, who bought the Doyle place some time ago, is making vast improvements on the grounds. He is planting a number of trees of various varieties and putting out choice shrubs.

Mrs. O. C. Smith has put a large addition to her house at Portola Park and contemplates further improvements.

The Family Club is making extensive improvements at its place in Portola. A new lodge is in course of construction and a car load of trees has arrived which are to be planted around the grounds. The members of the famous club will be there this summer and numerous fish jinks will be held.

J. A. Folger and family will move down next week from the city to spend the season at the handsome Folger home here.

Andrew J. Welch and family are moving from the City for the summer. They will entertain a great deal this season. Mrs. Welch is a charming hostess.

Asa T. Weeks departed Thursday for Alaska to take charge of a large fishery there. He will return when the season for canning salmon closes. Business is always good at the Red Front cigar store for the reason that the proprietor, George Welch, keeps nothing but the very best goods of tobacco and cigars. He treats his patrons in a manner that they all patronize his place. His pool rooms are frequented by a high class of respectable men.

Yee Yuen Hun was committed to a news last week by Judge Buck on the recommendation of Doctors Ross and Bar et. The Oriental was a "p" fiend.

Theresa A. Basuno was committed to Aspinew last Saturday by the Superior Court on the recommendation of Dr. Ross and Dr. McClelland of the Gardner Sanitarium, Belmont.

The firm of Spaulding and McDowell had the contract to furnish the furniture and Miller flat on Main street. The firm has completed the furnishing of the many rooms with the best material. They have received $1200 for the work. The firm has rented new quarters in the Wool Building and will move in when it is finished.

Firemen Will Celebrate.

The members of the Fire Department are making preparations for a big time on the 9th of May, next. This date will be the twentieth anniversary of the organization of the department along its present lines. Up to that time the apparatus for fighting fire was a small hose cart, the property of a few enthusiastic firemen. This was turned over to the new department, which consisted of three hose companies and one hook and ladder company. While definite plans have not yet been decided upon, the firemen will make the occasion a memorable one in department circles.

Funeral of Mrs. Petrie.

Many of the old residents of this city went to Cypress Lawn Tuesday to be present at the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Petrie. Mrs. Petrie was one of Redwood's earliest residents, an agent many years of her life here, in pioneer days, her husband conducted a boot and shoe store. After the death of Mr. Petrie the family moved to San Francisco, but the weight of years fell heavily upon Mrs. Petrie. She visited here frequently, spending much of her time with her sister, Mrs. William Wahl. The deceased leaves a son and a daughter, Henry Petrie, and Mrs. A. Groves of San Francisco, to whom the sympathy of many friends is extended.

No Inspection Required.

For some time past a rumor has been current among owners of launches in Redwood Creek that it would be necessary to have an inspection that each boat should be inspected under the steamboat rules and a pilot license secured by her owner. In order to settle definitely the question, L. E. Harris, owner of the launch "The local inspectors at San Francisco, who has been in correspondence with the local inspectors at San Francisco, and has been officially informed that none of the pleasure launches in the creek are subject to inspection. Under the law no launch under 15 tons is subject to inspection, but if used for carrying passengers for hire must be operated by persons licensed by the inspectors of steam vessels. All gasoline vessels must be navigated in accordance with the pilot rules for the inland waters of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Rare Musical Treat.

On Tuesday evening, March 30th, the Harmony Concert Company of Palo Alto will appear at the Alhambra Theatre. A musical treat is assured the people of Redwood City as the company is composed of musicians well known in Palo Alto and Stanford University. The company is fortunate in securing George F. Morgan, Stanford as humorist. Mr. Morgan is well known throughout the southern part of the state for his clever and original monologues and his ability to throw an audience into tears of merriment is fully appreciated at Stanford University.

The program will include quartets, duets and solos, both vocal and instrumental, together with numerous readings and monologues. No lover of good music and good humor can afford to miss this concert.

Death of Native Son.

M. H. Thorwell, a well-known resident of this county, passed away at Los Angeles last Tuesday after an illness of several months. He went south some time ago in hope of regaining his health. Mr. Thorwell conducted a road house on the site of the old Millbrae hotel for a year past and previous to that time he was employed by the Sprink Valve Water Company for many years in various capacities. Deceased was a native of San Mateo County and was a son of the late Stephen and Bridget Thowel; and loving brother of John, Thomas, Stephen and Catherine Thowel, Mrs. E. Nelson and Mrs. J. F. Twiss.

The last of the mammoth stone columns for the new courthouse was placed in position Thursday by foreman Dan O'Leary.

Doctor Barrett has returned from a flying visit to his former home in Quincy, Plumas County. He spent a week there. George W. Lave this week sold two lots in the Eastern Addition to Redwood City to Clark Rice. He intends to erect a factory for the manufacture of cement and mortar on the property.

The season for catching trout does not open until May 1st but there is a bill in the legislature which, if it passes, makes the season open on April 1st. It is to be hoped the act will become a law. In this county a great part of the streams run dry by the first of May and anglers lose some fine sport, then too "poachers" fish out all the creeks before the first of May. Local fish dealers are very much interested in the passage of the bill.

Series number 65 of the local Building and Loan Association are now open and are being liberally subscribed for. On April first series number 24 will mature when the sum of $14,800 will be distributed to the share holders.

It seems funny to hear of the Glenwood Lumber Co. suing L. Coburn when they do not seem to have had an argument of any kind to go on—result mistake.

Loren Coburn is getting ready to start a crew of men to work to rebuild the wharf and warehouse that was burned some time ago. We understand that Mr. Littlefield is to have charge of the shipping this year.

Mr. Coburn's idea of rebuilding his shipping place and cutting up about 50 acres of land and selling it off in building lots at Pigeon Point we think is a good one, as he says it is just about the right distance from Pescadero to start a new town. We predict that Mr. Coburn will make a lot of improvements in the near future.

F. A. Woodman has a spell of the grip.

Inconvenient for School Mams.

A resolution was adopted at the meeting of the San Francisco Board of Education Wednesday that all teachers deputies, clerks and employees of the school department be required to reside in San Francisco. This policy has been adopted on suggestion of the Mayor because such a rule is made compulsory by the charter. This will effect several of the young ladies of this place who hold positions in the San Francisco school department and reside here. It will work a hardship upon them as well as others who live in other parts of the county and those living in all the bay counties.

An orchestra has been procured for the occasion and that with the other numbers of the program will insure to all who attend a very enjoyable evening. The boys who are to take part in the parade have entered into their parts enthusiastically, and with the complete state setting with which the hall is equipped, will produce a very interesting and creditable play. Special Elisor Appointed.

Judge Dooling last Saturday after hearing the affidavits read by Ross and Walter Linforth denying the allegations set forth in the affidavits presented by the prosecution in the cases of the accused Supervisor and sheriff disqualified the sheriff. He was not so sure about the qualification of the coroner and ordered that official to secure a venire of 50 jurors to be present in court Tuesday morning. Coroner Plymire appeared at that time with 50 veniremen. He was subjected to a severe examination by attorney Ray Benjamin, of the attorney general's office. Dr. Plymire admitted his friendship for Mr. Elkerenkotter, one of the accused supervisors, but adhered to the fact that such friendship would not interfere with the performance of his official duties. However Judge Dooling disqualified him and sustained the challenge of Benjamin to the entire panel of 50 men summoned by Dr. Plymire. The appointment of an elisor was then asked for by the prosecution. The court said that being a stranger in the county he would ask the attorneys to agree upon one. After spending a whole day the attorneys on both sides failed to agree. Several names were submitted, the most prominently mentioned being attorney H. W. Brown. On Wednesday afternoon the court appointed Perry Eyre, the well known clubman and broker of Fair Oaks to act as elisor. He at once took the oath of office and sauntered forth in his b's touring car to secure 50 jurors. He has summoned such influential men as J. B. Coryell, E. B. Hinds, Fair Oaks; J. Parrott, San Mateo, and a number of wealthy residents of Burlingame. Up to a late hour last evening Mr. Eyre had not made his report, but he will most likely do it today. The jury men will appear in court at 10 o'clock Monday.

Teachers Confer With Parents.

In response to the invitations from the teachers of the grammar school a large number attended the conference of parents and teachers held in the Assembly Hall Tuesday night. A pleasing musical program consisting of both vocal and instrumental duets and solos was rendered by Miss McCarthy, Miss Bernhart, Miss Lewis and Miss Bevin.

Professor Benson gave an interesting talk on the work of the school. He explained the reason for many of the rules and particularly for the home work required of the older pupils. Mr. Benson asked the co-operation of the parents in supervising the miscellaneous readings done by the children as he felt, unless wisely guided, much of this reading would prove detrimental in later years.

At the close of Mr. Benson's address the class rooms were thrown open and the visitors asked to inspect work done by the different grades. The evening was most pleasant and profitable to all.

NEW STREET NAMES FINALLY SELECTED

Trustees Decide in Favor of the

PILGRIM FATHERS ARE HONORED

Passenger List of Mayflower Solves
Perplexing Problem Before the Board of Trustees

The Town Trustees have at last disposed of the vexing problem of rearrangement of street names. As soon as the proper ordinance can be passed, it will be necessary for the residents of the city to become accustomed to new designations for all of the streets in the section lying north of Broadway. As the changes adopted will greatly simplify the location of streets in connection with the remainder of the town, this will probably be found a simple matter, and within a few months at the utmost our people will have forgotten the existence of the old names.

This important matter was one of the chief reasons for the holding of the adjourned session Monday evening, and it was evident at the opening of the session that Chairman Merrill had determined that there should be no further delay in the matter, and that he had given the question of the selection of new names, careful study during the week. In introducing the subject, after Clerk Plump had called the roll and found all the members of the Board present, Mr. Merrill presented a list suggesting a complete set of new designations. In presenting the list he stated that he had prepared it merely for the purpose of expediting action and that he desired it understood that he exhibited no special preference for the names selected. In fact he urged further suggestions along this line. When the proposed names were introduced, Mr. Merrill stated that he had sought to avoid the selection of local references, and had considered it better policy to depend upon those of an historical character, his names being chosen largely from those of the party constituting the passengers of the Mayflower. While in reply to the invitation of the chairman some few suggestions were made, the members of the Board appeared to be pleased with the suggested designations and inclined to welcome the prospect of a final settlement of the question. After one or two slight alterations had been made, Trustee Hynding moved that the list be adopted and that the Town Attorney be directed to prepare an ordinance legalizing and putting into effect the new designations. As finally adopted, the changes in names will be as follows:

Charges Intemperance and Neglect.

"Bob" Carroll, the jail break-in constable of South San Francisco, has again come into the lime light through a suit for divorce filed for cruelty and habitual intemperance by his wife, Gertrude I. Carroll.

Carroll has been the bully of his home town for many years, but recently found his match in Deputy Sheriff Daneri, who lodged Carroll in the city's jail, from which he escaped a few hours later by throwing out his keys to a friend who opened the door.

In her complaint Mrs. Carroll charges that her husband has been habitually intemperate for the last five years and that he has neglected his business and family.

As a further cause of action Mrs. Carroll charges great cruelty and threats against her life, citing a number of instances when her husband threatened to shoot her, plains her in such a fear of her life on one recent occasion she fled to the home of a friend for safety.

Sea Covers Mussel Rock.

By some freak of the ocean, Mussel Rock on the coast side has become covered with sand and has almost entirely disappeared. Within the last thirty days, says the Half-moon Bay Review, thousands of tons of sand have been thrown up by the ocean and by some peculiar current this sand has been largely deposited in and around Mussel Rock. Every one who visited this famous rock knows that it could only be approached when the tide was out; now the land in the vicinity has been graded by nature for fifty feet and a visit or can walk to where the rock is hidden at any hour without danger of even setting the feet wet.

A GOOD LIAR.

He Finally Came to Believe His Own Yarn Was True.

The usual party of evening town gossipers had gathered in front of the postoffice when Katuska, a good hearted old dandy, said:

"Folks, I know a man who tells lies so often that he sometimes actually believes he's telling the truth. You've heard of them people, haven't you? Listen. One day he was passing by a restaurant, and as he was very hungry he went in to get something to eat. But when he got inside he saw that every seat was occupied. Then he waited a minute and suddenly said, just so loud so that every one could hear him:

"Have you heard?
"Of course every one said 'What?'
"Why," said he, "there's a whale down in the dock that they just captured last night. He's a real beauty. He's only going to be there ten minutes."
"Of course every one jumped up and ran down to see the whale. That was just what he wanted, so sitting down, he ordered his dinner and began to eat. Suddenly he looked out the window, and there was everybody running to the docks—policemen, Chinamen, coons and all—and he said:

"By golly! I guess it's so!"
"And he ran down there himself."—Judge.

SHOWED HIS TICKET.

An Obliging Passenger and a Cranky Station Master.

A cranky station master while examining tickets came across a cattle dealer, well known in the district, who held a season ticket. The station master, being aware of this, usually passed without troubling him to show it.

On this occasion, however, he ordered him in a not very polite manner to produce it, adding in a severe tone: "Mind, I want to see it every time you stop at this station."

Of course the ticket was produced, and the official passed on, looking very important and self satisfied.

A few days later as the early morning mail train drew up at the platform at about 3 o'clock a passenger accosted the solitary porter on duty and asked peremptorily for the station master.

"He's in bed, sir," replied the porter. "Tell him I want him," said the passenger.

The porter disappeared and after some delay returned, closely followed by the station master, who was audibly grumbling at being brought out of bed in the cold.

The latter then found himself confronted by his old friend the cattle dealer, who handed him his season ticket, politely asking him to examine it, at the same time reminding him that he had a few days ago expressed a wish to see it "every time he stopped at the station."—London Answers.

PERPETUAL YOUTH.

It Can Only Be Imparted to the Body Through the Mind.

The elixir of youth lies in the mind or nowhere. You cannot be young by trying to appear so, by dressing youthfully. You must first get rid of the last vestige of thought, of belief, that you are aging. As long as that is in mind cosmetics and youthful dress will amount to very little in changing your appearance. The conviction must first be changed; the thought which has produced the aging condition must be reversed.

If we can only establish the perpetual youth mental attitude, so that we feel young, we have won half the battle against old age. Be sure of this, that whatever you feel regarding your age will be expressed in your body.

Nothing else more effectively retards age than keeping in mind the bright, cheerful, optimistic, hopeful, buoyant picture of youth in all its splendor, magnificence; the alluring picture of the glories which belong to youth—youthful dreams, ideals, hopes and all the qualities which belong to young life.

One great trouble with us is that our imaginations age prematurely. The hard, exacting conditions of our modern, strenuous life tend to harden and dry up the brain and nerve cells and thus seriously injure the power of the imagination, which should be kept fresh, buoyant, elastic.—Success Magazine.

Eating the Pie.
"I remember one man from my home town," a western senator said recently, "in the good old days before civil service examinations, whose dream of earthly attainment was a government place. When his party was finally successful he immediately set out for Washington and was 'on the job' long before the 4th of March, but there seemed to be a hitch somewhere. All through the spring he was about town. By June he was seedy, but still appeared to be 'game.' Finally I found him in the gallery of the senate chamber apparently endeavoring to kill time.

"Well, have you given it up? I asked, trying to be sympathetic.
"Oh, I got the job, all right," he replied, with a satisfied smile. "I'm working now."—Success Magazine.

Uncertain.
The secretary of one of the college classes at Princeton, in sending out each year a list of questions to be answered by members of the class, in order that the results may be duly tabulated and set forth in the university annual, is said always to include in his list this question: "Are you engaged?"

It would seem that one of the members was cursed with doubt in this respect, for in the blank space given over to the query mentioned he made his return as follows:
"Do not know. Am awaiting letter."—Harper's Magazine.

Transformation.
Mr. Fred Stone, the singing comedian, and Mr. Eugene Wood, the writer, met on Broadway recently. They stopped for a moment to exchange a few cheerful words, when a woman in a particularly noticeable gown passed. Simultaneously Wood turned to Stone and turned to Wood, then both turned to rubber.—Everybody's.

Patchwork Education.
What the modern child lacks most is the power of observation. He is saturated with smatterings of every kind of knowledge, lives a strenuous life and cannot find time for observation and assimilation.—Madrid Mundo.

The Last Word.
She—And do you believe that a woman always turns to the last page first when she picks up a book? He—Well, I have no reason to doubt it. I know it is the nature of the fair sex to want the last word.—Pick-Me-Up.

Sunday's Journey.
"Father," said little Rollo, "what is meant by a Sabbath day's journey?"
"I am afraid, my son, that in too many cases it means twice around the golf links."—Washington Star.

He Mingled.
"Did you meet any of the members of the nobility when you were in Europe?" asked Miss Gushleigh.
"Sure. I sat between an earl and a viscount at a prize fight one evening."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Difference.
Marriage is a good thing for single men," said the bridegroom elect.
"Hum! Yes," remarked Mr. Henpeck, "for single men only."—New York Times.

The disappointment of manhood succeeds the delusion of youth.—Disraeli.

SIZE OF BULLSEYE.

It Varies According to Distance in Rifle Shooting.

"A bullseye is a bullseye" is an expression frequently used in connection with rifle shooting, but those unfamiliar with military rifle practice as at present conducted have little conception of what is meant by a bullseye on the regulation targets. The ranges at which shooting now takes place are 200, 300, 500, 600, 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. For these ranges three targets are employed.

The first is target A, which is used at 200 and 300 yards. It is six feet tall and four feet in width, with a bullseye in the center eight inches in diameter. This is surrounded by a circle twenty-six inches in diameter.

Another circle is forty-six inches in diameter. The bullseye counts 5, a shot in the inner circle 4, in the outer circle 3 and on the remainder of the target 2.

The B target, which is used at 500 and 600 yards, is six feet square. It has a twenty inch bullseye, and the first circle is thirty-seven inches and the second circle fifty-three inches in diameter. The value of the spots is the same as on the A target.

The C target is used at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. This is rectangular in shape, being six feet high and twelve feet long. It is divided into three sections by vertical lines three feet from each end. In the center is a thirty-six inch bullseye surrounded by a fifty-four inch circle. A shot in the bullseye counts 5, between the bullseye and the rim of the circle 4, anywhere outside of the circle, but within the six foot square, 3, and at either end of the target, but outside of the square, the counts 2 points.—Philadelphia Record.

WHO OWNS THE AIR?

Ancient Legal Maxim Says Man Owns Land "Up to the Sky."

It is still a moot point whether or not the flying of airplanes over private property may be opposed by due process of law.

In England there is an ancient maxim embodied in the English common law which says, "He who owns the land owns it up to the sky." This venerable rule, a legal authority points out, is as good today as ever it was and is full of menacing significance to the airplane builder.

The effect of this rule is to give the owner of land the exclusive right to the free enjoyment of the air over and above the four corners of his holding, and any interference with that enjoyment however apparently slight and harmless, constitutes a trespass, for which an action may be brought.

Applications for injunctions against airplane owners and actions for trespass by aggrieved landowners are not unlikely proceedings in the near future.—New York Sun.

How She Solved It.
There was something about the face of the stranger who sat opposite to her in the tram car that was familiar to the stern lady. "Pardon me," she said, "if I am not mistaken, you are one of the poor, underpaid working girls whom our Emancipation society tried to benefit, or, at least, you were a year ago."

"That is so," said the stranger.
"Then our society has evidently not been without influence, for you look prosperous now."

"I have everything I want and never was so happy in my life."
"That's splendid. You must have solved the woman problem."

"I have."
"Glorious! Do tell me about it!"
"I've married!"

A Case of Auto Suggestion.
A baker on the upper west side who purchased an auto delivery wagon was surprised to receive the following message from one of his most particular customers: "Please send no more orders to me by your new wagon. The smell of gasoline in the rolls made almost the entire family sick."

The baker sent word to the customer that, as the auto was driven by electricity and no gasoline was used at all, she must have been mistaken and added, "Perhaps the cook had just cleaned her gloves that day."—New York Press.

When the Play Falls.
"Patiently morning, noon, night, sometimes far into the dawn, the rehearsals go on, first the steps, then the music, then the words, then the situations with principals and stars in rehearsal and always the business, the exacting command, the sharp rebuke, the tireless round.

"How would you like to rehearse day and night, seven weeks, without pay, and yourself out of a job after the first night?"
"Wouldn't you rather read of a glorious triumph and see the managers and authors and composers rake in the shekels, the golden, glittering shekels, even though they grew fat on them, for the sake of the people who had rehearsed seven weeks without pay?"

The tragedy of failure is back in the land of make believe, down in the crowded dressing room, down where the girls huddle together and tremble, down where one weeps silently and dries her eyes on the skirt of a useless costume."—Smith's Magazine.

Poor Richard's Almanac.
Dr. Franklin himself in one of the last numbers of the almanac gathered together all the best sayings of Poor Richard, which for twenty-five years had amused and edified the country. These sayings are in constant use at this day. For example, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise;" "Drive thy business—let it not drive thee;" "Help hands, for I have no lands;" "No gains without pains;" "Constant dropping wears away stones;" "Three removes are as bad as a fire;" "He that by the plow would thrive must himself et her hold or drive;" "A fat kitchen makes a lean will;" "Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other." It was such homely maxims as these inserted in all the little gaps of the almanac that made it so popular. Franklin said he sometimes sold 10,000 copies in a year, a wonderful sale for that day. The first number of Poor Richard's Almanac appeared in 1732.
